We are experienced in liaising with builders and architects, so no matter how big or small your project, we can handle it.

"We have just bought a kitchen from Anderson Sinclair and are really thrilled with the attention to detail and beautiful finishing touches it incorporates. Jon and the team have been incredibly supportive and accommodating. No matter how many questions I asked, they always took the time to explain clearly and were able to help with my design even though I wasn't able to visit the showroom until later in the process. With the amazing support of the team at Anderson Sinclair, I can now safely say we have the kitchen we've always dreamed of."
